Student Council Tells Float Order for Parade

The holiday activity will reach a high point this morning at 10:15 a. m., when the parade leaves the University campus and winds its way through downtown streets.

Eleven organizations are in competition for the plaques to be awarded the best floats. Two other floats, one carrying the princess and her court and the other carrying campus royalty, will also be in the procession.

One hundred thirty decorated cars are expected to be in the parade. The cars will be spaced at 10-car intervals between the floats. The cars will form for the parade on the Elmwood Park road west of the administration building at 9:30 a. m.

Parade To Start at OU

The parade will start at the University, travel east down Dodge Street to Thirtieth Street, north to California street, east on California to 19th street, south on 19th street to Farnam street and east on Farnam street to 15th street. From there, the parade route will turn north to Dodge street along 15th street and then proceed west on Dodge street to the campus.

The parade order has been announced by Bob Schropp, parade chairman. Theta Chi's "Omaha Launches Century II" will lead the parade. It will be followed by the Tomahawk's "Hats Off to the Past—Coats Off to the Future," Zeta Tau Alpha's "Sands of Time," and Phi Beta Chi's "Omaha, Path of Progress."

"Through the Years"

Next in line will be Sigma Kappa's "Through the Years," the Student Council float carrying Princess Attira XX and her four attendants, Lambda Chi Alpha's "A Century of Progress," and the Alpha Xi Delta float, "Omaha Turns a New Century."

Chi Omega's "Golden Spike to a Golden Future" float will follow. A float carrying 1953-54 all-school royalty; Junior Prom Queen, Cutest Pan, and Typical Freshman Homecoming Princess, Ugly-Man—Cutest Pan, and Typical Freshmen Boy and Girl will be tenth.

Next in line will be "A Bang Up Centennial Year" of Pi Kappa Alpha and Independent's "One Hundred Footsteps of Progress." Sigma Phi Epsilon "Steak Your Future in Omaha," will bring up the rear of the parade.

Band To Parade

The OU band under the direction of Robert Gaskill will pick up the procession at 19th and Douglas and will lead the parade to 15th and Farnam. The Kidd-Irwin band will be the last formation in the procession.

The floats will be judged several times at selected intervals on the parade route. The decorated cars will be judged by three faculty members as the parade returns to OU. Drivers of decorated cars are urged by Schropp to remain in line to the end of the route.

Low Radcliffe is Student Council member in charge of the group's Princess float.

Holiday Hours

Today is Ma-ie Day. The annual breakfast was the kick off of 18 hours of planned celebration. Hungry workers put finishing touches on floats before coming to the 7 a. m. feed. Princess Attira XX stepped from her tepee at 8:30 a. m. and donned her regal Indian robe.

Floats will line up in the Fieldhouse parking lot at 9:30 a. m. The parade will roll down Dodge street at 10:15 a. m.

The Kidd-Irwin band will present a jazz overture at 1 p. m. Skits will take up the afternoon from 1:30 p. m. until 5 p. m.

Four hours to yourself before Eddie Haddad and his orchestra take the bandstand and play for the 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. informal dance.

Bail Places Royal Crown

Five girls walked uneasily into a small tepee in front of the east bank of the OU stadium. Joan Haven donned the beaded doeskin robe and moccasins and stepped out as Princess Attira XX. President Milo Bail placed the royal headdress upon Miss Haven's head and presented her a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Haven of Chi Omega sorority is a senior at the University, majoring in business administration. Miss Haven is president of Waokiya, women's honorary leadership group, and Phi Theta Chi, women's business fraternity.

She is also vice-president of Corinthians, scholastic honorary, and represents the senior class on Student Council. Miss Haven is also active in Angels and Omaha University Women's Intamurals.

The 21-year-old brunette is better known as "Joanie." Princess Attira XX will spend this afternoon at Peony Park ballroom decorating for tonight's dance. She is chairman of dance plans and decorations.

Miss Haven's attendants and contenders for Princess title are Gayle Fried, Alpha Xi Delta; Derrille Blumer, Zeta Tau Alpha; Jody Pierce, Sigma Kappa, and Joyce Sunshoe, Independent Students Association.

Eight Groups in Competition For Top Skit Presentations

Curtain going up on Ma-ie Day skits this afternoon at 1:30 in the auditorium. Social sororities and fraternities will compete for best over-all skits and women's and best men's skits.

Kidd-Irwin band will present a jazz overture at 1 p. m. Members of the band will present their original arrangements and interpretations of jazz and hit tunes. The band will also play between skits.

Each group will be limited to 15 minutes on stage. A 10-minute band interlude will be featured between acts.

Theta Chi will lead off in the competition with "Bread of the City," written by Ron Adwers. Phi Beta Chi will follow with the "Strange Case of Clara Belle," and "Two-Gun Dead-Eye Dick," or "Sage Brush Sage." Playwright by Jack Cowan.

Zeta Tau Alpha will take the spotlight with Pat Kavan's "The Masterpiece." Sigma Kappa will change the tempo in their interpretation of "Date Daze," written by Jodie Pierce.

Sigma Phi Epsilon will tell how to "Make Someone Happy Today" when they portray a skit by Fred Shinrock. Alpha Xi Delta's "Retrospect," or "My But the Attic Gets Cluttered After a Hundred Years or So," written by Mary Little, will be next on stage.

"OU Cruise," a Chi Omega production by Jean Bednar, will come next. Final act of the program will be Pi Kappa Alpha's "So This Is Omaha." Warren Hopson is skit chairman.

Float Builders Eat in 'Shack'

OU's own "Kitchen Klatter Klub," the Student Center staff, went into production this morning to serve the annual Ma-ie Day breakfast. The breakfast was served from 7 to 8:15 a. m. The Student Center staff fed scrambled eggs, ham, tomato juice, sweet rolls, and milk or coffee to approximately 176 weary float builders.

Departs From Tradition

The Student Council breakfast planners were forced to depart from the tradition of holding the event in Elmwood Park. Chairman Chuck French got indigestion weeks before the breakfast from running from one end of town to another, trying to get park officials to change their "block reservation system." This system means that only one group a day can use each park pavilion.

Complications

French and his committee found that the Grace Bible Institute, which had the park reserved for tonight since last year, was willing to sign a release giving OU permission to use the park pavilion and kitchen in the morning. City officials, however, would not relax their rule since it meant a double clean-up job for park care-takers.

Finally, feeling the futility of bucking official red tape, Chuck decided to have the breakfast served in the Student Center. "Anyway," he said, "no one will get wet if it rains."

We Didn't Forget

Always in the back of an OU student's conscience is a Dean or a professor. But thoughts of these people who make the University wheels go round were fewer during the past couple of weeks.

Third quarter tests and the threat of approaching finals reminded float builders and Ma-ie Day enthusiasts that school was still their prime responsibility.

Today is a holiday, but thoughts and thanks go to President Milo Bail, Deans and professors who co-operated with students so that 1954 Ma-ie Day is sterling as it meets reality and becomes a memory.

Thanks to you, President, Deans and professors, for your co-operation in helping us to plan our Ma-ie Day. Enjoy it with us!

The Gateway staff.

Origin of Ma-ie Day From Omaha Tribe

The time for festival from the Omaha Indian tribe has gained prominence on campus since its founding in 1935. The Ma-ie Day celebration, organized by Virginia Lee Lon, Martin Speckter and Howard Sorenson, is based on tradition of the Omaha tribe in Macy, Nebr.

Over 500 students were at the first celebration. Only one skit, a musical comedy, "Pass the Buck," was presented. In contrast to today's dawn breakfast, float parade and group skits, their activities included indoor sports (rain prevented swimming) and a dance, all at Peony Park.

The royal doeskin robe is authentic Indian dress. It is also the dress of the Homecoming Princess.

Fast becoming a tradition is extensive campaigning for the princess candidates.

Dance Tonight To Announce Ma-ie Winners

Omaha University's growth, from a tepee to the present campus, will be pictorially defined tonight at the Ma-ie Day Dance. Following a red and white color scheme emphasized by dashes of black, Peony Park will be turned into a hall of memories for those who are old enough to remember.

Tepees and replicas of the Dodge street building will decorate the ballroom and clusters of balloons (more than 720 in all) will hang from the center of the ceiling.

The intermission ceremony, over which Princess Attira XX will reign, will reveal the winners of the annual float and skit competition. A total of six plaques will be awarded. A plaque will be awarded to both the best over-all float and best over-all skit.

In addition, the best float and best skit in both the men's and women's divisions will be awarded at the dance. The five cars judged best in the parade will also receive awards at the intermission ceremony. Jerry Tannahill will MC the dance intermission.

Eddy Haddad and his orchestra will play from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. for the informal, all-school Ma-ie Day dance.

Admission is one activity card or one paid admission per person. Single tickets are $1.00.

Joan Haven is over-all dance chairman. Working with her are Jo Thorson, decorations; Donna Reynolds, gifts, and Jerry Tannahill, intermission entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Wayne Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Roderic Crane are the sponsors for the dance.

Regents Announce Library Bid Deadline

Bids for the new library building will be due Friday, May 28, the Board of Regents announced this week.

Separate bids will be received for general construction, electrical work and heating, ventilating, air conditioning and plumbing.

Bids for the proposed building originally were to be let Apr. 15.

However, extra time was needed for the bid specifications when ground samplings showed that pilings would have to extend deeper than expected.

The million dollar library building will be constructed on the west side of the campus where the tennis courts are now located.

Architect John Latenser, Jr., hopes that construction will begin sometime this summer. He said contractors must state on their bids when their company could begin work.

The building and grounds committee, headed by Clarence Kirkland, will examine the bids before making recommendations to the Regents.

Dean Urges Class Choice

There is an old saying that "the early bird catches the worm." Applied to OU life: "The early registrant gets the classes."

Early registration for the fall semester will open next week. Students planning to register should make counselor appointments at their convenience.

When registration closes at the end of next week, students may not sign for classes until Sept. 13. Only new students will be registered during the summer.

Alice Smith, registrar, said "My plea to students is to register as soon as possible. We will not register students during the summer because we do not have a full staff and are so busy with summer school."

"Those who wait till September stand a good chance of not getting the classes they want."

Registration for the summer sessions is being held now until June 5. The first session begins June 7 and lasts until July 10. The second session is from July 12 to Aug. 14. Evening courses will be offered from June 8 to July 29.

Wing Cadets To Test At ROTC Inspection

The University cadet ROTC wing will undergo a two-day inspection May 17-18.

A wing parade at 10 a. m. will be the feature the first day of inspection. The cadet wing, the ROTC band, the Sabres and the Marching Angels will participate in the parade.

ROTC classes, records and the staff room will be inspected during the second day.

The federal inspection team will be composed of Col. H. E. Hurst, Lt. Col. E. J. Bodine and Maj. J. E. Deatherage.

Cadet Lt. Col. John Haury will be commanding officer during the inspection. Deputy Commander is Col. Robert E. Ernst, while Lt. Col. Donald Nelson is executive officer.

No uniforms will be worn until the first day of inspection.

'Spectator Sports' Next TV Series

Members of the track and baseball teams will be featured on the "Spectator Sports," the next in the Doors of Knowledge television series, tomorrow at 1 p. m. Virg Yelkin, athletic director, and Ernie Gorr, track coach, will talk on baseball and track and will give examples of good form and strategy.

"They will point out some things which should make the program most enjoyable," said Dr. Bruce Linton, director of the program. This series is sponsored by the OU speech department.

Adult Education Choir To Present Program

The University of Omaha Adult Education Choir will present their spring program Sunday at 8 p. m., in the auditorium.

Included in the program are Schicksalslied (Song of Destiny) by Johannes Brahms and Mass in D minor by Franz Joseph Haydn.

The Song of Destiny is sometimes called Brahms' little requiem. It depicts man's struggles and woes here on earth and his hopes and dreams for the world to come.

Forum To Feature Tomorrow in Religion

The last Omaha Centennial Forum of the Future will feature "Tomorrow in Religion" at 8:30 Wednesday at the Ak-Sa-Ben Coliseum.

Three nationally-known religious leaders, representing different faiths, will be guest speakers. They are Rabbi Abba Hiller Silver, Temple Synagogue in Cleveland; Father Daniel A. Lord, S. J.; and Rev. Theodore P. Ferris, rector of Trinity Cathedral in Boston.

Governor Robert Crosby will be moderator of the panel. The Boys Town choir will be featured.

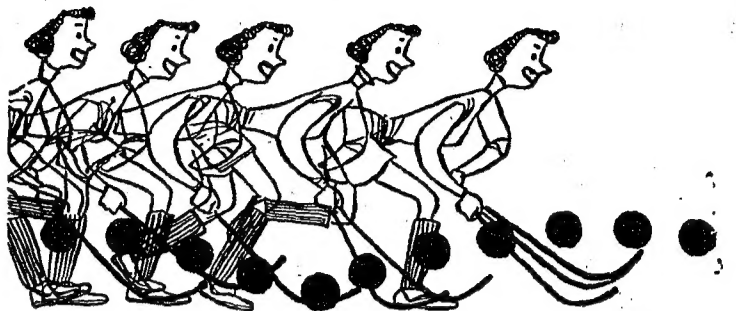

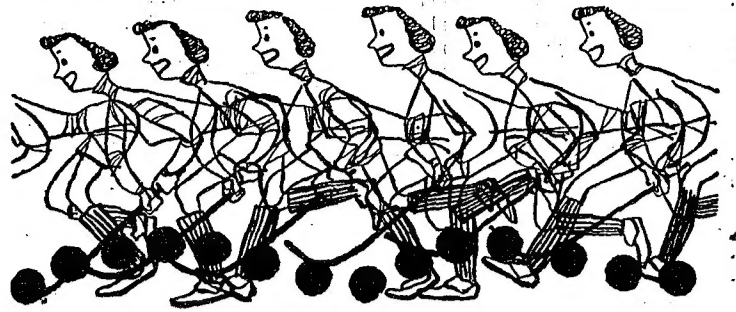

Student tickets for the forum may be obtained free from the Dean of Student Personnel office, Room 272. A ticket, plus a special student rate of 25 cents, will admit University students at the gates.

North Central Member To Visit OU

Dr. Milo Bail has invited members of the North Central Association to Omaha University Saturday, May 15, from 9 a. m., to 4 p. m., to study problems of

"Teacher Education in Complex Institutions."

Dr. Bail said a complex institution may be defined as one where there is more than one college in the curriculum.

Wet Grounds Hamper Indian Baseball Team

Chi O's Grab Bowling Title

Track Team Meets Simpson; Cindermen Shine In Relays

By Ed Rath

After several days rest brought about by last week's rainy weather the OU baseballers will take to the road Monday afternoon to meet Buena Vista College of Storm Lake, Ia. The Indians were scheduled to meet the Iowans last Wednesday if good weather prevailed.

The Buena Vista crew will be a hard team to beat and are considered one of the toughest teams on the OU schedule.

Indians Meet Bulldogs

After the Buena Vista encounter the Indians will travel to the Iowa capital city where they will take on the Drake Bulldogs on Friday afternoon. The Indians had a game scheduled with the Drake boys last week, but rainy weather caused a postponement.

The Bulldogs are expected to send right hander Bob Bertell against the Indians Friday afternoon. Bertell won the first and only game the Iowans have played this season, when he faced Iowa Wesleyan. The two teams will meet again on Saturday afternoon.

Schaetzle to Start

Stan Schaetzle is expected to get the mound assignment for coach Virgil Yelkin's crew. Schaetzle started the season as a relief hurler but after his fine pitching display against South Dakota State, Stan has received the starting nod. If Schaetzle needs help Bob Ladd, Chris Salberg and John Stella will be on hand to fill in at the mound.

Engelhard, Carlson May Start

Coach Yelkin said that Bill Engelhard and Skip Carlson may crash the starting line up. Engelhard missed early baseball drills because of spring football practice, but has been making rapid improvement. He has been converted from his catching position to the outfield, where he will join Don Claussen, Jim Swanson or Dave Langevin.

Carlson is a freshman making his bid at second base. His fielding has been good and his hitting is improving.

The Creighton Bluejay, Omaha University baseball game scheduled for Monday night at Muni Stadium was postponed until Saturday.

The game will take place before the Omaha Cardinal game.

Chi Omega topped eleven bowling teams with 53½ wins, 27½ losses, to win the women's bowling league.

Other teams and their scores are NISA, 52 wins; ZTA, 52; Alpha Xi Delta, 43; Unaffiliated A, 42; Owls, 41½; Gamma Mu, 41; Sigma Kappa, 39; Kappa, 34½; Alpha Xi B 28½; Independents, 28, and Unaffiliated B, 23.

Rifle Club Nominates

Rifle Club members are to vote next week for nominated officers. They are Peg Andersen and Barbara Keisling, president; Blanche Bell and Bertha Vanecek, vice-president; Mary Leo and Judy Bonduant, secretary-treasurer, and Kay Talty and Audrey Coons, publicity.

Results of this week's individual rifle match will be released in the next Gateway. Finalists are Audrey Coons, Ruth Longville and Barb Keisling.

Table Tennis

Semi-finals in the table tennis tournament are now in progress. Results of the doubles and singles matches are posted in the women's quonset.

Netmen Hit Win Column

Omaha University's tennis team snapped out of a four game losing streak Tuesday afternoon and scored a 4 to 2 victory over Nebraska Wesleyan. Results:

George Stephens, Wesleyan, defeated Don Blocker 6-1, 11-9.

Carl Carlson, Omaha, defeated Bill Hill 6-4, 6-4.

Bill Pedersen, Omaha, defeated Dick Beishline 6-2, 6-3.

Don Fisher, Omaha, defeated Gene Braymen, 6-1, 6-0.

Blocker-Fisher, Omaha, defeated Stephens-Bravemen, 6-2, 6-3.

Hill-Beishline, Wesleyan, defeated Feddersen-Howard Larimore, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

The Omaha tennis team easily beat Nebraska University 5 to 2 on Apr. 28.

Their record up to date is 2 wins, 4 losses, and one tie.

Omaha University's track squad ran against Peru State Teachers College yesterday, too late to permit the results to be printed in this week's Gateway.

Simpson College will come to Omaha for a dual meet with the Indians next Wednesday. Although the school hasn't had too much luck in their meets this year, they have always given OU tough competition.

The competition will begin at 2 o'clock with the field events. Roger Dumbier, Dick May, and Chuck Wickstrand hope to win their respective events in the high jump, pole vault and broad jump. The Simpson meet last year proved to be the downfall for May. He suffered a strained back after his vaulting pole snapped.

Dale Geise, Bob Palmquist, and Dick Robinson will be competing for places in the discus and shot put. Omaha's lack in field depth at the beginning of the season is being filled as the men become more experienced in the events.

Indians Shine in Relays

Coach Ernie Gorr's trackmen walked off with four first places in the 1954 Doane Relays held at Crete last Tuesday.

One of the outstanding performances of the day was the high jump which ended in a four-way tie at six feet, two and three-quarters inches. Roger Dumbier of Omaha, reached the height along with Eugene Anderson of Fort Hays, Kansas, Marion Hudson of Dana, and Norman Lastovica of the host school, Doane.

Barnes Wins

Sophomore hurdler Bill Barnes provided the next first with a sensational upset over Lee Loewen of Mankato, Minnesota, in the final heat. Both Barnes and Loewen won their individual heats with Loewen breaking the Relays record in .148 seconds.

Barnes tied the Relays record in his preliminary heat and came back in the finals to win by a step over the Mankato runner.

Mile Relay Team Stars

The Omaha mile relay team, which has only been defeated once in regular meet competition, came through with another victory with a time of 3:26.3.

A fast 880 anchor in the sprint medley relay by Bernie Lainson provided OU with its final victory. Lainson came from behind the Fort Hays runner to win easily with a 2:03 half mile.

Independents Win Intramural Bowling

ISA closed the Intramural bowling program with a record of 40 wins and 20 defeats which was good enough to insure them of the first place title. Pi KA and the Sioux team settled for a tie as runners-up with a record of 32 victories and 28 defeats apiece.

Members of the championship team are: Bob Shanahan, John Torey, Don O'Keefe, Mike Watanabe, Jim Seybold, Jim Sorenson, Larry Fargher, and Jack Dodds.

High individual game for the year was by Subby Maddolena of the Sioux who posted 232 points. Rudy Rotella of the PE Majors had 566 points which was good enough for the highest individual series of the year. The Sioux team had 785 points for the highest team game rolled and 1985 points for the highest team series bowled. Jerry McAuliffe of the Sioux was the league's outstanding bowler with a 157 point average.

Pi Kappa Delta Elects Welch Debate Leader

Arlyss Welch was unanimously elected president of Nebraska Theta chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national Forensic fraternity Wednesday.

Other officers, who also were unanimously elected, are Jean Bednar, vice-president; Carolyn

Nevins, secretary, and Tom Romberg, treasurer.

The new officers were installed by Sharon Erdkamp, out-going president.

The group also initiated three new members at the Wednesday meeting. The new members are Alfred Sugarman, coach and sponsor of the organization, Carolyn Nevins and Eugene Frese.

Participation in five intercollegiate competitive debates or discussions determines a person's eligibility for membership.

The organization voted to send debate representatives to the five Omaha public high schools to interest high school seniors in the University's debate program.

U. S. business is spending record $27,827,000,000 on plants.
